

Telling the time

We have our second clock! I love the way you are all taking your time and thinking of a theme for them. Emie has done hers in a rainbow theme. I assume this is in recognition of the NHS and all the valuable work they are doing to support us at this difficult time.

Well done and keep up the good work. It will soon be time to come back to school.