

Weekly learning packs provided by twinkl

Week 10 for week beginning 15th June

We have been very busy in school and getting used to the new routines. I hope those of you still unable to come into school are well and not getting too bored.

Unfortunately, twinkl, who have been providing free access to all their resources since the end of March, have now decided that it is no longer financially viable to keep the entire site subscription-free. They have however, been very generous and still allow free access to the Home Learning Resources. Although they no longer produce the weekly plan that we have been following, they continue to provide a daily plan which you can access free of charge and decide which of the activities you would like to follow. It is timetabled out to fill the whole day, but obviously this is not a requirement! Do whatever you feel would engage the children and also support their learning.

I know you have all been doing some excellent activities with your children and it must be nice to feel you have lots of time to play with them too as they learn. You are doing a brilliant job and I am sorry that I will not be able to see the Year 2 pupils in my class again.

The new resource is for all ages.

<https://www.twinkl.co.uk/home-learning-hub/2020-06-15>

There is a drop-down bar to access the days of the week. You will also note there is a choice of ages, so make sure you are on the correct level of work for your child. Some of the activities link to the BBC bitesize too.

Also remember to keep looking at Top Marks and Primary resources for resources for all subjects.

Maths:

- ncetm: You need to subscribe, but it is free and there are daily videos if you click on Teaching Maths during school closure
- nrich

Literacy:

- <https://www.literacyshed.com/the-ks1-shed.html> for literacy,
- <https://literacytrust.org.uk/free-resources/>

I understand that I gave the children spellings during the half term break, I can only apologise for my mistake. Please just work your way through the lists I have been sending unless you child is in Year 1 and is attending school. If this is you, please look at the three-week plan for weeks 7-9 and give the children week 2 spelling for their group

<https://www.denver.norfolk.sch.uk/includes/attachments/P722/week%20%20-%209%20from%208th%20June.pdf>. This is what we will be learning in school from 15th June and I assess their learning on Friday.

Next Friday (19th June) there is an event arranged by the School Games team that is being held across Norfolk called the Rainbow Run. The idea is very simple: you dress up in colourful clothes and have a run. It can be short, long, at home or elsewhere. We intend to take part in school in our bubbles. We will take photos and would love for those of you who are learning at home to join in too. Please email pictures to the school office to be added to our display. This link gives more information <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=U1NQdfOLI-s&feature=youtu.be>

Take care and stay safe.

Miss Pennock